

Garments to order for women expecting a baby. What to issues and ideas notes.

Question 1

Q1: Make some notes related to Minimum. What challenges, if any, can you foresee and how will you tackle them.

Garments that we order:

- In the initial stage we are unsure on how many pieces we should order.
  - In dialog with our buying agent we will make sure to order enough to have reasonable prices.
- If we order too few it will be costing more per item, at the same time we do not want to have a big stock with unsold products.
  - We will sell at ordinary price into the first week of the summer. Then we will have a sales on this T-shirt.

Products from wholesalers

- We will ask about minimums

Question 2

Q2: Make some notes related to the Order Process. When and how will you contact factories, wholesalers or wherever you buy from?

Garments that we order:

- When we are ready with design and all info for minimum 3 designs for knitted fabric garments, we will contact the buying agent
- We will agree on a time schedule with them
- And we will adjust the launch of the website to first delivery

Products from wholesalers

- We will spend some time and energy to find out what suitable products will be there.
- Then we will find out prices, delivery time, payment terms, etc.
- Based on this we will select a suitable number of products, minimum 20 such products and maximum 40 such products initially.

Question 3

Q3: After seeing the lectures on factory, make some notes what you must remember to include in your planning. If you do not use a factory but buy from wholesalers or so, then makes notes on buying from them.

Garments that we order:

- We must find a routine for approval of samples so nothing gets wrong
- We must make sure the communication is fast and effective with the buying agent/factory
